CHANGES AT THE THEATRES.

Mounet-Sully Begins His Engagement with "Hernani."

Marie Jansen Returns with "Del-

made his American debut at Abbey's Theatre last night in Victor Hugo's romantic drama, "Hernani." The ragedian must have felt that he was at ol, a role that Sarah Bernhardt made apped the actress, who is not a Sarah ernhardt by any means. To-night the mpany will appear in "Oedipe Roi," by phocles, and a review of Mounet-lly's work in this play will appear in morrow's "Evening World."

BIJOU THEATRE. Miss Marie Jansen returned to the Bijou Theatre last night with Glen Mac-conough's farce, "Delmonico's at 5," n which she appeared last November, she wore her usual fascinating smile and a gorgeous succession of costumes. The

PARK THEATRE,

"The Dazzler" was the play at the 'ark Theatre last night. It was at this muse that it was first introduced to kew York, a few seasons ago, with ydia Thempson and Joe Ott in the cast, idss Thompson is no longer there, but
dr. Ott still plays his old part as funnily is ever. He is an excellent comedian,

Black Crook," with its usual uous, feminine army, took posses-f Oscar Hammerstein's Harlem House last night. There were the ballets that were so much admired when seen at the Academy of Music, and the marches, groupings, tableaux and dances that never seem to weary the lovers of spectacle. Among the specialty people were Sadie Macdonaid. Flora West, Fielding and Wood and Shepard.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE.

"The Land of the Midnight Sun," Barsour's melodrama, that has been haunting the combination houses a good deal
ately, pleased a large audience at the seople's Theatre last night. In the cast
vere Elmer Grandin, William Barbour, logan Paul, Criptie Palmoni, Edwin sarbour, King Hedley, May Wheeler, Kate Gilbert, Henrietta Scott, Barry
'Nell, Charles Young and Sadle Mitchil.

H. R. JACOBS' THEATRE. H. R. JACOBS THEATRE.

The patrons of H. R. Jacobs' Theatre dearly love an Irish attraction, and they had a very good one yesterday in the hape of "Killarney," with the clever litle actress, Katle Emmett, as the star. Miss Emmett has plenty of opportunities in Con T. Murphy's play, for she is cast for a dual role, that of a girl and a boy. She sang a number of catchy songs, and acquitted herself most creditably.

COLUMBUS THEATRE.

COLUMBUS THEATRE. H. Grattan Donnelly's sensational play, "Darkest Russia." was presented at Harlem's Columbus Theatre last night by the actors and actresses that were seen in the play when it was presented at the Fourteenth Street Theatre. Edgar L. Davenport appeared as the hero, and Sheridan Block as Ivan. The play was very handsomely staged, and the effective situations were veherently the effective situations were veherently.

were J. W. Kelly, the witty comedian; the Rogers brothers, "funny German boys;" Lottie Glison, the "little mar-net;" McAvoy and May, Ward and Vokes in a new act; Lina and Vani, the Lynn sisters, Mazuz and Abacco, and Matthews and Harris.

Matthews and Harris.

PROCTOR'S THEATRE.

The long list of attractions at Proctor's Theatre yesterday, included Alcide Capitaine, "the perfect woman;" Clown Jigg, Minnie Renwood, the "serpentine dancer;" Sherman and Morrisey, the Braatz sisters, the three Glinserettes, the Tortajada troupe, the Big Four, the Fenton brothers, Grieve and Regan, Brennan and Wheeler, Lillie Kennedy, Clark and Angeline and many others.

KOSTER & BIAL'S.

Clark and Angeline and many others.

KOSTER & BIAL'S.

Inaudi, the marvellous mathematical enigma, was again seen at Koster & Bial's concert hall last night. Maggie Cline was also seen, and most decidedly heard. The other features of the programme were the Wilmots, bicycle experts; Armand 'Ary, A. O. Duncan, the ventriloquist; the royal wrestling lion, Clara Qualitz, Unthan, Bertoldi, the Deltourelli brothers and Satsuma.

EDEN MUSEE.

EDEN MUSEE.

The entertainment at the Eden Musee yesterday was up to the usual standard of excellence, and there is so much to see there besides the stage performance that the most exacting visitor must feel that he is getting a good deal more than his money's worth. Powell, the magician and filusionist, was there, and so were Lola Yberri, Ruth Davenport, Frank Majilton and Adele Purvis Onri.

HUBER'S MUSEL'M. EDEN MUSEE.

HUBER'S MUSEUM. HUBER'S MUSEUM.

The "original" Arabian village, from the World's Fair, was the centre of attraction at Huber's Fourteenth Street Museum yesterday. A number of Arabs appeared in native combats and dances, and the village proved to be very interesting. Two vaudeville companies appeared in the theatorium, and among their artists were Bertha Brush, the Darling sisters, Jessie Kerworth, Emory and Marlow and the Brownings.

IMPERIAL MUSIC HALL.

IMPERIAL MUSIC HALL.

HERRMANN'S THEATRE. HERRMANN'S THEATRE.

Messrs. Benton and Aarons furnished a very good entertainment at Herrmann's Theatre yesterday, and have just substituted an orchestra instead of the plano that before did service at this house. A number of bright performers appeared and did good work. James Thornton sang comic songs, and Musical Dale contributed his usual specialty. O'Brien and Redding, Haines and Pettingill, Allan May and others contributed to the programme.

DORIS'S MUSEUM.

DORIS'S MUSEUM. The patrons of Doris's Eighth Avenue Museum had a very varied bill yesterday. Some of its features were N. S. Monroe, the ossified man; Lagrand Larow, the man with the long beard; a couple of hypnotic experts, Amy Arilington, a snake charmer; Balbroma, the fire king; a Grecian beauty, a drama called "The Orphans," and a good variety comeany.

IN BROOKLYN PLAYHOUSES.

"Robin Hood" was the bill at the Co lumbia Theatre, in Brooklyn, last night. and they certainly played up to their reputation last evening. A large audience greeted them and went away pleased with the performance. "The Maid of Plymouth" will be sung on Thursday night.

THE AMPHION. "Sheridan; or, The Maid of Bath," held the attention of a large audience at the Amphion Theatre last night. Mr. Soth-

Frederick De Belleville and Fanny Gillette filled the two leading roles in the revival of "Hoodman Blind" at the Bljou Theatre last evening. An adequate presentation of the old melodrama was given, both in cast and scenic settings.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.

"A Parlor Match," the farce that was originally penned by Charles H. Hoyt, was seen in "revised" form at the Grand Opera-House last night. There is no need for the semi-apologetic manner that is now used in announcing this farce, I tis still a fun-maker, and the Grand Opera-House people, who know it well, laughed heartly at its absurdities. Evans and Hoey played their old parts.

NIHLO'S GARDEN.

given, both in cast and scenic settings.

"Camille" was selected by Clara Morris for the opening of her engagement at the Grand Opera-House. Miss Morris gave a strong, forceful interpretation of the title following and was well supported by John Glendinning as Duval, F. C. Harriott as the elder Duval, W. C. Kelley and the other members of the cast. To-night will be presented.

NIBLO'S GARDEN.

"The Rambler from Clare" was the play at Niblo's Garden last night, with Dan McCarthy in the leading role. The play is a good one for people who are not sticklers for novelty. The hero is the kind of good, young, rescuing fellow, whom audiences have admired for decades, and whom they will probably is citing sawmill scene and the other real-decades, and whom they will probably istic incidents called forth rounds of approntinue to admire. The play was very nicely staged, and a feature was made at the farmyard scene in the first act.
